

Excerpts of the youth's declaration of armed jihad which he intended to release prior to his attack

“Our beloved land of Singapore has become a battleground, torn apart by the forces of oppression and tyranny. The time has come for us to rise and reclaim what is rightfully ours. For too long, we have endured the yoke of oppression, subjected to the whims of tyrants who seek to extinguish the light of Islam from our midst. But I say unto you, my brothers and sisters, that the time for our patience and endurance has come to an end. It is time for us to take up arms and defend our faith, our honor, and our land. Today, I declare a Jihad, a holy struggle against the forces of tyranny and injustice that seek to oppress us. We shall fight with courage and determination, knowing that victory is assured to those who remain steadfast in their faith and their cause.”

“Let it be known to all who oppose us that we shall not rest until the flag of Islam flies high over every inch of our beloved land. But our struggle does not end at the borders of Singapore. I call upon our Muslim brothers and sisters in the surrounding countries to heed the call of Jihad and come to our aid.”
